NO. 46

Bond Issues.

Bond issues are not popular with the voters of Kentucky. In the late election a number of counties endeavored to secure the adoption of bond propositions as a means to permanent and prompt road improvement. In every instance, it appears, the proposition was defeated and road building through bond issues will not be possible.

It is difficult to understand the obstinate opposition which many voters manifest toward any sort of a bond issue. In some counties it has resulted in failure to build court houses that are greatly needed. In some of the school districts the voters persistently refuse, by their antipathy to bonds, to permit the erection of suitable school buildings to meet the needs of the rising generation.

Probably half a dozen counties have turned down propositions to issue bonds in reasonable amounts for road improvement. The county of Mercer, which has been in want of a suitable courthouse for many years, has refused to vote funds for its construction. The city of Paducah defeated a bond issue for school improvements. In striking contrast with these results comes the news from the little city of Pineville where two bond propositions were voted upon and both were carried by a practically unanimous vote. One provided for the issue of $30,000 for bonds for the erection of a new city school building and the other for $15,000 for street improvement. Pineville, according to the census of 1910, has a population of 2,161. Approximately 400 votes were cast in the recent election and out of that number only thirty were recorded against the bond issues.

There are many counties which lack good roads, good schools and suitable public buildings. Likewise there are many cities bigger than Pineville which lack good streets. A little of the Pineville spirit is badly needed in numerous localities in Kentucky.—Courier-Journal.

Hunting Season Opens.

The hunting season for 1911 opened yesterday and the boys were among the game in due time but to some of them it must have become an old thing as they have been out for weeks banging away at something. We know whereof we speak because we heard the shots and tried our best to catch some of them, but they were always gone when we would go to where the shots were fired. It is to be hoped that some of them will yet be punished, though to us it seems a difficult thing. To fine a few of them would put a stop to the violations.

House Burned.

The residence of Jesse Puckett near Powell's Valley church was burned yesterday morning while all the family was away from home. Everything in the house was also consumed in the flames. The loss falls very heavily upon Mr. Puckett who is a hard working man and had acquired a little home from his labors only to be swept away in so short a time.

The editor of this paper has a warm place in his heart for the friends who bring or send in news items. It is the desire of this paper to give all the news all the time and those who lend us their assistance to that end have our unbounded gratitude.

The men who do a town more harm than good may be classed as follows: First, those who oppose improvement. Second, those who run it down to strangers. Third, those who never advertise their business.

Patrick-Maple.

The marriage of Mrs. Paulina Patrick to Mr. Sid Maple, of Irvine, Ky., was celebrated Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Pryse House. Rev. A. H. Sanders, pastor of the Christian church of Irvine, was the officiating minister who pronounced the ceremony in a very impressive manner. Mrs. G. T. Smith played the wedding march. Mrs. Jas. Mott McDaniel sang just before the ceremony, "O, Promise Me." The bride was charming in a travelling suit of gray. The wedding march sounded with joyful notes for the greetings and congratulations, after which the bridal couple took the 11 o'clock train for their home in Irvine.

The gifts were a feature of the wedding. A splendid collection displayed in the hotel parlor.

The bride is a daughter of A. H. Thomas one of the earlier settlers in Lee county. She has a great many friends and will be greatly missed.

Mr. Maple is a prosperous lumberman of Irvine, where they will go to house keeping in their new home, furnished and ready for the bride.

There were some fifty guests at the wedding, who followed them to the train to see them off on their journey.—Beattyville Enterprise.

Heavy Hits for the Harvester Trust.

The International Harvester Company, one of the most oppressive trusts in the land, has been so harassed in Kentucky by fines because of their continued violations of the State trust laws, that it has withdrawn from the State.

The next day after the Company withdrew from the State, this trust is ousted from the State of Missouri because of the combination and increase of price put on the machinery which the farmer has to use.

Costly Land.

In the neighborhood of Glen's Creek, Ky., it is said two neighbors differed about a strip of ground eight feet wide and containing only about one-eighth of an acre. They went to law to settle it, and the case is still undecided. Already they have spent eighteen hundred dollars, and before they get through with it they will have to spend about thirty-five hundred. Here is new evidence that in case of dispute it is better to "agree quickly with thine adversary."

Registration Certificates in Demand.

Of 46,087 citizens who secured registration papers, 35,601 voted in Louisville last Tuesday, 10,486 failing to exercise their voting privileges. The market for registration certificates must have been better in Louisville than in some of the other cities of the State.

The United States Supreme Court decided that the State of Kentucky had the right to tax the steamships of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company although they have no port of call in Kentucky.

Looking for Best Grade.

In the job department of the Democrat's were printed this week blank forms for options on the right of way for the L. & E. road from some point near Trenton to Jackson. This road if rebuilt will not be along the present line, but the blanks mentioned above, are to be used up the North Fork, and the most practical Creeks of the same that run in the same general direction.

It is now generally understood that the road projected from here to Irvine and the one from Paris to Indian Fields, are neither primarily intended to develop new territory. The object is to get the best possible grade from the head of the Kentucky river to Cincinnati so that the immense freight to be developed can be handled at the least possible expenditure of motive power and other equipments. The Irvine road, if built, would go up the Middle Fork and strike the present L. & E. road about twenty miles above Jackson. This river is comparatively free from sharp bends, and is pretty straight for a mountain river. On the contrary the North Fork, up which the Paris and Indian Field route is projected is about as crooked and turbulent a stream as can be found.—Winchester Democrat.

Lands Posted.

All persons are hereby notified that no hunting will be allowed on inclosed lands belonging to the undersigned.

Heavy Wind Storm.

The wind storm Saturday night did great damage all over Kentucky as well as in other States. Eight persons were killed at Janesville, Wis. and in other Western states the loss of life and property was very great. Saturday was a very warm day for the season of the year. That night the wind blew heavily followed by rain. Sunday the rain turned to sleet then to snow with a fall in temperature until Monday morning when the thermometer registered but 12 degrees above zero. Unsheltered stock suffered greatly Sunday night. A great deal of corn fodder in the shock in this county was blown down in the Saturday night's wind which was all the local damage done here.

Peanut Farming for the Insane.

Peanut farming may be tried at the insane asylums of Kentucky to solve the problem of giving the insane some employment and it is believed that a large profit can be earned for the State in this way. The idea was suggested by S. A. Pate, one of the officials of the asylum for the insane at Hopkinsville. He tried growing peanuts in the garden back of the buildings, and succeeding in producing 202 bushels of nuts on a tract of less than an acre. He believes that the nuts can be grown successfully at the asylums at Lexington and Lakeland, as well as at Hopkinsville.

But this time to Kentucky Democrats
They bring great cheer.

The sentiment of the verse.
And reluctantly though tersely says,
"I thank my stars it can be no worse."

We are more interested in the development of Powell county farm lands and the betterment of its public roads than any other public and secular question. The improvement of these two things must be brought to bear or as a county we must go backward. Let every resident of the county join hands with us.

When hogs were ten cents a pound last year, Republican papers pointed with pride to the fact and gave its party full credit for the high price. Republicans are still in control and hogs are five cents this year. Will some of our Republican exchanges explain the cause for the decline in price.

We had much rather talk up good roads than to talk politics, and we are sure it is better for us and our readers too. If we only put our heads together about the roads like we do at election times we can get the roads too.

Congratulations are due Kentucky for two reasons: the election of a splendid Governor and the election of a great Judge to the Court of Appeals.

John Langley was very modest indeed to predict a Republican majority of 19,000. He only missed the result a cool 50,000 votes. Good guesser.

That was a fine trade our Republican brethren made when they swapped off Matthews for Lyle. Matthews didn't need the votes and Hall did.

Teachers have been getting their money quite regularly, but now that the election is over we assure them it will not come up so promptly.

A road that is undrained, undragged, useless and uninviting. Query: Is it a highway or mireway? The march of progress over such roads will certainly be slow. Such roads mean isolation, drudgery, poor schools, poverty and wretchedness. A good road ought to change the name of such a locality from Mud Flats to Pleasant Plains.

The Rev. Irt R. Hicks 1912 Almanac.

Before the great drouth of 1901, the Hicks Almanac gave timely warning. For over two years prior to 1911, the Hicks Almanac again sounded a warning of drouth danger. And so for forty years this same friend of all the people has steadfastly refused the offers of speculators and continued to warn the public of the coming dangers of storm and weather. As they should have done, the people have nobly stood by Professor Hicks, their faithful public servant, who has grown old in their service. Send only one dollar to Word and Works Publishing Company, 3401 Franklin Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, and get his Magazine and Almanac both for one year. The Almanac alone, a fine book of 150 pages, is only 35c by mail. Let every body respond and receive the warnings of our National Seer for the coming year.

The Myers Patent Mop Wringer

This Mop Wringer is the only machine ever invented that will wring and clean a mop thoroughly. It not only takes out the dirt and leaves the mop clean, but it wrings it so dry that there is hardly any moisture left in the mop. The floor is never left streaked, as you are always using a clean mop. The machine is very simple to operate and requires no skill, as anybody can use it, man, woman or child. It is a labor saver, as one person will do the work quicker and better than three with any other device known. The mop sets on the platform and is not attached to the machine and can be moved at any time. It is always ready for use and there are no parts to get out of order. A trial of our machine will convince you that its work is perfect. We have yet to find a dissatisfied customer.

If your dealer does not handle this Mop Wringer, write direct to us.

PLANT STAND FOR A WINDOW

One That Can Be Moved Easily Is Always in Demand—Can Be Constructed by Handy Person.

A plant stand that can be moved easily is always in demand by who ever grows flowers. The accompanying design can be constructed by any one handy with tools. It should be made in a substantial manner, for when weighted down with pots it will be subject to considerable strain when moved, and a flimsy framework would soon come apart and the stand collapse, plants and all.

Of course, such a stand can be made of any size to fit the window. writes Sylvanus Van Aken in the Orange-Judd Farmer. When one desires to make the room more attractive for a party it may be wheeled away and placed against the wall, the shelves facing the room. It will thus provide a bank of plants and flowers. Its portability is also a great advantage on cold nights, since it saves the labor of moving pots one by one, as is necessary where stationary plants or tables without casters are used.

In summer, when plants go out of doors, it may be set against the side of the house in a sheltered place, and it will be as useful as indoors.

The design illustrated herewith is two feet high, two feet from front to back, and three feet long at the back. The shelves are each eight inches wide and three inches deep. The top one is three feet long, the middle two and one-half feet long and the bottom two feet long. These shelves should be covered with a couple of inches of sand, in which the pots are to be plunged. If this sand is kept moist it will prevent unusual drying of the soil in the pots. The whole framework should be mounted on casters, preferably of iron, and braces should be placed at the back and across the bottom, as shown in the drawing.

CAUSE OF CHESTNUT BLIGHT

Withering of Trees Is Result of Boring by Insect Between Outer and Inner Bark.

Thomas Davy Candy of Langhorne, near Philadelphia, declares that he has discovered the cause of the blight which is withering chestnut trees in the middle and south Atlantic states. A boring beetle, one-sixteenth of an inch long, black in color, which lays its eggs between the outer and the inner barks, is the primary cause, he says. Grubs are hatched from the eggs, and these penetrate the soft inner bark, following its course around the tree trunk. Above the patch or the borer occurs the blighted appearance. Myriads of the tiny worms were found upon a single tree upon Mr. Candy's land, and the total result of their depredations was so extensive that the tree, he says, appears to have been scorched by fire. The blight has become so serious in Pennsylvania that the legislature appropriated $275,000 to a commission appointed by the governor to investigate the cause of the disease and to devise ways for exterminating it.

Profit in Alfalfa.

One middle west seed company purchased recently 700 bushels of alfalfa seed. The seed, uncleaned, sold for $8.50 the bushel, and was sold by Steven Heel of Shawnee, Okla., who received $5,950 for the 700 bushels.

Prevent Washing of Solls.

On hilly lands great difficulty is experienced in preventing washing by heavy fall and winter rains. The use of cover crops, therefore, becomes imperative on such lands if clean culture is to be practiced in the summer.

Size of Farms.

Our farms are decreasing in size. The average number of acres in farms having decreased from 146 in 1900 to 138 in 1910.

It is claimed that early sown fall wheat is benefited when pastured with sheep to keep down the rank growth.

Pedigreed scrubs are the bane of the stock-breeding business, and need the attention of honest breeders of all classes of stock.

If taken at a very early age chickens can be taught to come and go at certain times, fed in a certain way and do other things that will save time and annoyance.

The chicken does not refuse to lay eggs or get fat through perverseness of character. It is simply because the owner does not know how to bring about desired results.

A well-filled crib of well-matured corn, which generally means a good yield per acre, is much more satisfactory and to be desired than many first prizes at the fair.

The truth is the farmers of the middle west are raising better mutton than ever before and people are learning that it is about the best and cheapest meat they can buy.

This cry is never heard by the birds by her or anybody else except at the times when they were actually wanted and the way they came running was a striking lesson in training.

In counting the profits from your flock do not fail to count the value of the fat lambs killed during the twelve months for the family use and the high value of all the manure.

If the colts are to come out sound, lively and ready for work or market next spring they must have good feed, plenty of exercise in open air every fine day and warm quarters at night all winter.

Cattle and other live stock will derive much good early fall on winter pasture on wheat and they will not damage the crop if the pasturing is done in dry weather or when the ground is frozen.

If you would really know how an unblanketed horse feels after violent exercise in cold weather take a brisk run of a mile or so and then stand where the cold wind will strike you for half an hour.

The winter egg producers are now in the course of development on thousands of farms, and it behooves every one to see to it that they lack nothing at this period that would assist in their development.

Never buy a horse for family use where the women folk are to drive him without at least one week's trial. If he is put through all his paces and sent up against steam engines and other scary things he will develop his good or bad faith in that time.

A pair of full grown Bull snakes will keep two or three acres of alfalfa free from the encroachments of the pocket gopher and the mole, and they are harmless with the exception of the fact that they may catch small chickens if they are given a chance.

Morgan Gravett, of Clark county, was here this week to see his father, Allen Gravett, who is very ill.

An exchange remarks that a man can start out any day and inside of an hour and thirty minutes he can engage a woman to work for life at nothing a week, while it will take two weeks of solid search to get one to work at high wages and board.

Lower Taxes

would be a most desirable change, but since that seems to be out of the question just now, the best thing to do is to save tax money by making your purchases at Williams' Two Stores.

FOR SALE A

Splendid Farm.

A farm of 210 acres, well improved, 3 1/2 miles from Clay City on public road, convenient to churches, school and postoffice. Good dwelling of 8 rooms and 2 porches. Nice young orchard and excellent spring in the yard. Good barn and other necessary outbuildings. Tenant house on place. About all in blue grass. Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined. SOLD IN TOWN F2

Pains All Over!

"You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Guffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.

You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

Not Simply a Car—but Car Service

Now is the time of year when you are beginning to think of the car you intend buying. Remember, when you buy, that the absolute limit of dollar for dollar return is reached in cars selling under $2,000. When you pay more, your return is not in proportion to your investment. When you buy, buy not simply a car—but car service. Buy correct design, accurate construction and good materials. Buy sound motor car value.

In the MARATHON you get all this. But don't accept our mere statement. For we can convince you of its truth.

We have a catalogue which describes, in detail, the wealth of mechanical excellence, finish and dependable utility that characterize the MARATHON.

And it's yours for the asking. Won't you ask for it?

MARATHON models include Torpedo Touring Car, Four Door Touring Car, Standard Touring Car and Roadster, and Torpedo Roadster. Prices from $1,500 to $1,700.
